

XLIIIrd International Congress of Military History

“World Wars and Colonies in History”¹¹

From 2 - 8 September 2017 Douala, Cameroon

INVITATION

Under the distinguished patronage of His Excellency Paul BIYA, Head of State and Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces, member countries of the International Commission of Military History (ICMH) are hereby invited to the XLIIIrd International Congress of Military History which the Cameroon Commission of Military History (CCMH) shall be hosting at the Hotel Akwa Palace, Douala, from 2 to 8 September 2017 on the theme: “World Wars and Colonies in History”.

The very rich and diversified sub-themes derived from the main theme of the Congress possess some assets likely to be of interest to all nations, including those that did not directly take part in colonization or World Wars.

Moreover, the academic programme will be coupled with a workshop of doctoral (Ph.D) students placed under the responsibility of the Committee on Education, an interesting cultural programme and a post Congress Touristic Tour that will enable Congress participants to discover the charm of the innermost parts of Cameroon considered as “Africa in miniature”.

The website of the Congress: <http://www.icmhdouala2017.cm> is operational and will provide information on the usual practical modalities to participate in the Congress.

“You are all warmly welcome to Cameroon”.
